

Studying in Hamburg

Why study in Hamburg?

- In Germany studying is closely linked to practice
- A strong international focus is present in all universities
- International degree programs are in English
- The tuition fees for universities are low or none
- After studying in Germany the career opportunities are very diversified

In Germany are about 2 Million students of which 11% are foreigners. After the US and UK Germany is the third most famous country to study abroad. As well Germany tops the list of the most international countries in the world. Since 2008-2009 the number of Indian students in Germany increased by 114.2%.

- University of Hamburg

The Hamburg University is the main public university in Hamburg. There are around 38.000 students with about 3500 graduates each year. About 850 Professor and 1800 academic staff members are teaching and working at the university. The range of courses is wide spread. The faculties include the following:

- Faculty of Law
- Faculty of Humanities
- Faculty of Medicine
- Faculty of Economics and Social Science
- Faculty of Education, Psychology and Human Movement
- Faculty of Mathematics, Informatics and Natural Science
- ZBH Center of Bioinformatics

For more information see the following webpage's:

http://www.uni-hamburg.de/index_e.html

<http://www.verwaltung.uni-hamburg.de/campuscenter/vor-dem-studium/englischsprachige-masterstudiengaenge.html>

- Technical University of Hamburg (TUHH)

This university was founded in 1987 and is one of the youngest in Germany, but also one of the most popular ones. 5000 students from all over the world are taught by approximately 100 different professors in 40 Bachelor and Master degree programs. International programs in English are:

- Chemical and Bioprocess Engineering
- Environmental Engineering
- Information and Communication Systems
- Information and Media Technologies
- International Production Management
- Mechatronics
- Microelectronics and Microsystems
- Joint Masters in Materials Science
- Joint Masters in Environmental Studies: Cities and Sustainability
- Joint Masters in Global Innovation Management
- Joint Masters in Communication and Information Technologies
- Joint Masters in Ship and Offshore Technology

For application you will need a German language test: B 2.2-level (intermediate level) which you can do at the Goethe-Institute. For more information see the following webpage's:

<http://www.goethe.de/ins/in/mum/lrn/stf/enindex.htm>

<http://www.tuhh.de/alt/tuhh/education/degree-courses.html>

<http://www.tuhh.de/alt/tuhh/education/application/procedure-msc/applicants-from-abroad.html>

- Hamburg School for Business Administration

The HSBA is a school founded by the Hamburg Chamber of Commerce offering a variety of dual bachelor and master programs. Most programs are in English:

- Business Administration
- Business Informatics
- Logistic Management
- Maritime Management
- Media Management
- MBA Shipping
- MBA Corporate Management
- MBA Honourable Leadership

For more information see the following webpage:

<http://www.hsba.de/en/>

- Hochschule für bildende Künste (HFBK Hamburg)

This is the University of Fine Arts, which was founded in 1767. The Master of Fine Arts can be achieved in the following courses:

- Design
- Film
- Graphic Art / Typography / Photography
- Painting / Drawing
- Sculpture
- Stage Design
- Theory and History
- Time-based Media

For more information see the following webpage's:

<http://www.hfbk-hamburg.de/en/study/international/>

<http://www.hfbk-hamburg.de/en/study/study-programmes/>

- Bucerius Law School

The Bucerius Law School is the first private law school with university status in Germany. It was founded in 2000 and 16 fulltime professors are teaching here. The school is known for its high standards and excellent graduates. The international programme includes the following courses:

- MLB (Master of Law and Business)
- International Exchange Programme
- Bachelor of Law
- L.B./First German State Examination (in German only)

For more information see the following webpage's:

http://www.law-school.de/visiting_students.html?&L=1

<http://www.law-school.de/home.html?&L=1>.

- Hamburg University of Applied Sciences (HAW)

This university was founded in 1970 and is a institution of higher education and applied research. With 14000 students it is one of the largest institutions for higher educations in Germany offering a wide range of studies including Engineering and Computer Science, Design, Media and Information, Life Science and many more. It is possible to do your Bachelor, Master or even a PhD at this university. For more information see the following webpage's:

<http://www.haw-hamburg.de/english/haw-hamburg.html>

<http://www.haw-hamburg.de/english/international-students/master-students.html>

- Hochschule für Musik und Theater (University for Music and Theatre)

The HMTH is the largest university of its kind in Germany and was founded in 1950. A broad range of courses including composition, orchestral and choral conducting, instrumental music as well as specific courses like jazz music or elementary music education and much more is offered at the three faculties:

- Faculty I: Artistic courses of study
- Faculty II: Theatre Academy
- Faculty III: Scientific and Educational Courses of Study

For more information see the following websites:

<http://www.hfmt-hamburg.de/english/>

<http://www.hfmt-hamburg.de/english/courses/>

- Northern Institute of Technology Management

The Northern Institute of Technology Management is an international business school in Hamburg. Founded in 1998 it today offers a Master of Business Administration (MBA) for international graduates with engineering background. The university is linked to the TUHH (listed above) and applicants will have to apply at the TUHH. For more information see the following webpage's:

<http://www.nithh.de/?L=0>

<http://www.nithh.de/students/master-and-mba-programs/prospective-students/admission/applications/?L=0#c181>

- AMD Academy for Fashion and Design

The AMD is a state-registered private university for studies about media, fashion and design with its main campus in Hamburg and several additional centers in Düsseldorf, Munich and Berlin. A Bachelors degree can be done in Fashion Design, Fashion- and Design management, Spatial

Design and Visual and Corporate Communication. For more information see the following webpage's:

<http://hochschule.amdnet.de/home-718.html>

<http://hochschule.amdnet.de/service-738.html>

Enjoying Hamburg

- Port of Hamburg: The port of Hamburg is located on the river Elbe and is the largest port in Germany, while being the second largest in Europe (after Rotterdam). It covers an area of 7399 km² and more than 13.000 ships are entering the harbor each year. The best way to discover the Hamburg port is on a Barkasse, a small boat that goes through the harbor and the "Speicherstadt", the largest warehouse complex built on timber-pile in the world. Every Sunday from 05:00 am till 09:30 am a traditional fish market takes place at the Hamburg port. Since 1730 everything imaginable is sold here and the auctions are very entertaining.
- Reeperbahn and St. Pauli: The Reeperbahn at St. Pauli was once known as the sinful mile of Hamburg. Nowadays it is a melting pot of cultures, international people, partying, bars and some leftover parts of the red light district. Next to the Schanzenviertel this is the main party area in Hamburg offering all styles of music from rock to house to reggae. The famous St. Pauli soccer club has its stadium here as well.
- Parks and the Zoo: The zoo "Tierpark Hagenbeck" is the first zoo without barred cages in Germany. It was founded in 1907 and is still today the only zoo in Germany which is private owned. In 2007 a new tropical aquarium was opened next to the already existing Asian steppe, elephant house, African panorama, ice world, giraffe complex and many more. Concerning nature in Hamburg there are two beautiful parks: "Planten and Blomen" and the city park. Planten and Blomen offers a large range of colorful flowers and every night in summers there is a water light concert in the centre of the park. The city park is the largest one in Hamburg and there are various possibilities to spend your spare time like playing soccer, swimming or visiting the planetarium located at the northern end of the park.
<http://www.hagenbeck.de/startseite.html> <http://plantenunblomen.hamburg.de/>
- Historic Hamburg
 - Michel Church: The St. Michaels church is located near the harbor and is one of the five protestant churches in Hamburg dedicated to archangel Michael. The church tower offers a brilliant view over Hamburg and the interior of the church is mostly kept in white which is well worth seeing. <http://www.st-michaelis.de/>
 - Old Elbtunnel: In 1911 the Old Elbtunnel was officially opened as an under river connection between St. Pauli and Steinwerder on the other side of the river Elbe. Since 2003 the Elbtunnel is under historic protection but still being used by pedestrians to cross the river. You can visit the Elbtunnel and go for a walk to cross over to Steinwerder and then go back with the ferry to the harbor.
 - Television Tower: The radio telecommunication tower is one of the most famous landmarks in Hamburg. It was built in 1965-1968 with a height of 279,2 meters. There are eight platforms, one of them being the observation platform and a restaurant.

The famous stuntman Jochen Schweitzer installed a bungee jumping base here.
<http://www.hamburgerfernsehturm.de/>

- Town Hall: The Rathaus Hamburg or city hall is the seat of the government of Hamburg located in the cities centre near the Jungfernstieg and the Alster. It was built in 1886 in a neo-renaissance architectural style. The Rathaus offers tours around the building that provide you with interesting information about the building itself as well as the history of Hamburg. The Mönckebergstraße, Hamburg's main and largest shopping street leads from the town hall to the central train station.
- Jungfernstieg: the Jungfernstieg is located at the Innentalster next to the city hall of Hamburg. It is surrounded by historical buildings and shopping malls. In summer the boats are running on the river Alster offering tours that go through small

- Museums

- Hamburg Dungeon <http://www.the-dungeons.de/hamburg/en/index.htm>
- Spice Museum <http://www.spicys.de/>
- Miniaturwunderland <http://www.miniatur-wunderland.com/>
- Art Mile <http://www.kunstmeile-hamburg.de/>

Living in Hamburg

Hamburg has 1,8 Million inhabitants. Therefore it is not always easy to find a proper reasonable priced accommodation. If you are planning to study in Hamburg the easiest way to find an accommodation is to apply on the following webpage for a room in a "Studentenwohnheim"

http://www.studierendenwerk-hamburg.de/studierendenwerk/en/wohnen/online_application/#Service-Pakete

Or if you are looking for shared apartments, check out the following links:

<http://www.wg-gesucht.de>

<http://www.studenten-wg.de>

<http://www.hamburg.de/wg>

Price range is from 250€ up to 380€ depending on the size of the flat and the building itself. If you are interested in a list of all student dorms in Hamburg, please contact the Hamburg Representation in Mumbai via Email hannah.truxius@hamburgmumbai.com

Contact:

Lukas Schmitz
Hamburg Business Manager

Maker Tower 'E', 1st Floor, Cuffe Parade
Mumbai 400005 India
Tel: 0091-22-66652 150, -121
www.hamburgmumbai.com
lukas.schmitz@hamburgmumbai.com